President Al-Sisi is rolling out a campaign of ‘Two Children is Enough’

Ministry of Social Solidarity launched an aggressive two-year project called in Arabic 2 Kefaya, which means (Two is Enough).

2 Kefaya also seeks to provide free birth control to families and is cooperating with 100 local NGOs which will develop family planning clinics in Egypt’s highest governorates with the highest birth rates.

The project “2 Kefaya” will include a comprehensive media campaign through the spreading of pro-family family planning messages on billboards and in media.

The project will be working with over a million women in the hopes of stabilizing birth rates.

The project is also a collaboration between Ministry and the Takaful program which provides access to jobs, literacy courses and income support to poor households with children younger than 18.
