Reflections from Indian Constitution

- Principle of gender equality is enriched in Indian Constitution in its preamble, fundamental rights, fundamental duties and directive principles
- Constitution grants equality to women
- Empowers state to adopt measures against indiscrimination
- National Policy for the Empowerment of Women, 2001- empowerment is the enabling process that must lead to women’s economic as well as social transformation

Dr. SK Sikdar, MoHFW, Government of India
What Perpetuates GBV?

- Gender norms that
  - Rigidly define gender roles and what a ‘good’ woman is
  - Tolerate and accept male aggression and risky sexual behavior as part of being a man
  - Give men the right to discipline and control wives

- Cultural norms that treat domestic violence as a private matter

- Women’s lower status in society that results in:
  - Limited access to and control over resources
  - Less education and skill development
  - Dependency on men, on sons

Gender Based Violence and SDGs

Eliminating gender-based violence and harmful practices is linked to the achievement of multiple SDGs and targets, including:

• SDG 3: Ensure healthy lives and promote well-being for all at all ages
  – 3.1 By 2030, reduce the global maternal mortality ratio to less than 70 per 100,000 live births
  – 3.2 By 2030, end preventable deaths of newborns and children under 5 years of age, with all countries aiming to reduce neonatal mortality to at least as low as 12 per 1,000 live births and under-5 mortality to at least as low as 25 per 1,000 live births

• SDG 4: Ensure inclusive and equitable quality of education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all
  – 4.a Build and upgrade education facilities that are child, disability, and gender-sensitive and provide safe, non-violent, inclusive, and effective learning environments for all

Dr. SK Sikdar, MoHFW, Government of India
Gender Based Violence and SDGs

India is vigorously working on women empowerment
Social Empowerment of Women

1) Health: Health is an important survival indicator. Increasing access to health services are now being prioritized.

Malnutrition is a major health problem in India: Every second women is anaemic

Teenage pregnancies have halved from 16% (NFHS III) to 7.9% (NFHS IV)

Maternal Mortality: India recorded a decline of 37 points, which has been the highest since the last several decades (from 167 per lakh live births in 2011-13 to 130 per lakh live births in 2014-16)

2) Education

Gross Enrolment Ratio- 48.63% of total enrolment in 2011-12

Female Literacy has increased from 65.38 in 2001 to 74.04 in 2011 (Census)
2) Political and Legal Empowerment of Women

- Out of around 2.8 million elected representatives more than 1.0 million are women

- Doing more to minimize under-reporting
- Recognize the limitations of large scale surveys
  - Doing more in-depth and longitudinal studies to fill in gaps
- Going beyond the measurement of prevalence
  - Analysis, dissemination, action
Solutions to GBV

• Expand efforts to target harmful gender norms and educate young people, women, and men through comprehensive sexuality education, behavior change initiatives, and community-based programming

• Engage men and boys in the prevention of violence and promotion of gender equality

• Ensure and enforce legal protections and justice for survivors of gender-based violence

• Improve multi-sectoral services to support gender-based violence survivors, including those living in humanitarian and fragile settings

• Increase equitable access to economic assets

• Invest in local women’s movements and women-led civil society

The World Bank has estimated that the costs of intimate partner violence for a range of countries run from 1.2% to 3.7% of gross domestic product (GDP), equivalent to what many governments spend on primary education.
